Ownership of the wireless device remains with Hines however there is no additional monthly fee for the device, or signals transmitted by it, while your monitoring is active with Hines. Hines will remove the device free of charge if you need to cancel monitoring with us.

We will also match or better your existing monthly monitoring charge and you can also make use of our FREE iPhone or Android Apps to view current status; view history; see who's been using it; UPDATE your contact details and the contact order; RECEIVE 'late to close' alerts AND update the close time for that night (commercial users). And if the radio unit is connected to a Hines alarm you will be able to ARM and DISARM from your smart phone.

Our radio unit does not rely on your phone line, broadband or any other local third party devices to relay signals to our monitoring station, and it will continue to function in a power outage. This offers you the most peace of mind and reliability of any monitoring option.
